

DINESH PANWAR, PRINCIPAL ARCHITECT

URBANSCAPE ARCHITECTS

Dinesh Panwar founded Urbanscape in 2008, a design studio that is engaged in works across several building typologies and programmes. As the Principal Architect of Urbanscape, Dinesh believes in positioning himself using an anchor, in the design process from the very beginning. Doing away with a blinkered conception, he deems to explore the unknown.

Dinesh's works are an exemplar of a process-driven methodology right from conception to execution. User-centricity and client satisfaction are the definitive targets in every project and his design language relies heavily on the context, programme, climatic conditions and site topography. Dinesh likes to experiment with forms and facades in a way that the outcomes are sustainable, functional as well as aesthetic. He aims to achieve calming, pragmatic and timeless spaces in every project.

The studio has won a range of credible International awards and accolades by way of media recognition. A graduate from the Institute of Environmental Design, Dinesh joined Kanvinde, Rai and Choudhary as an intern for six months, where he was enthused by the works of Ar. Achyut Kanvinde and considers him to be one of his biggest inspirations. Hence, the outcomes of all of his works reiterate an honest and genuine intent of practice, design, materiality and context.
